

SEPTIC TANK & BIOCYCLE CLEANING

RILTA Environmental Limited offers solutions for efficient servicing of your Septic Tank and Bio-Cycle unit in Dublin, Meath, Kildare and Wicklow Areas.

Waste Water Treatment Systems:

The EPA Code of Practice for Waste Water Treatment Systems for Single Houses states that, "an appropriate system be correctly installed and maintained to protect our environment and in particular water quality". The maintenance of these systems is imperative to ensure that they function properly. The EPA recommends to de-sludge a septic tank at least once a year but this varies with the system's capacity and use. You must de-sludge the septic tank if scum is present in the second chamber or if the sludge comes up to about 400mm from the bottom of the tank. A minimum of 75mm of sludge should remain in the tank to assist in the reseedling of the new sludge. Regular maintenance is required to ensure that the septic tank operates effectively and that solids do not enter the percolation area and clog the distribution pipe work.

Specialist Services:

At RILTA Environmental, we offer a fast effective range of services to keep your septic tank serviced and functioning effectively. We can jet all lines if a blockage is suspected and carry out a CCTV to show the Customer exactly what is causing the problem. A full remediation plan will be laid out for any issue that is identified. With our modern fleet of jet/vac road tankers we can access septic tanks without the need to leave your driveway, utilising boom arms to reach across green areas without causing any disruption.
